The Machine In The Garden

The Machine in the Garden: Technology and the Pastoral Ideal in America is a 1964 work of literary criticism written by Leo Marx and published by Oxford University Press. The title of the book refers to a trope in American literature representing the interruption of pastoral scenery by technology due to the industrialization of America during the 19th and 20th century. For example, the trope notably appears in Henry David Thoreau's Walden when the whistling sound of a steam ...

The Machine Against The Garden | The Anarchist Library

According to Joel Garreau's (1991) essay, "The Machine, the Garden, and Paradise," progress is less a thing and more of a process through which fundamental debates over public life are fought. He turns to Leo Marx to illustrate this process through which American public life may be defined by a struggle between two objectives of progress: the machine and the garden.
